Media and Photo Consent Guide - Easy Language

This guide explains how Parent to Parent (P2P) takes photos and videos, and what your rights are.

This Guide explains our full Media and Photography Consent Policy in simple words. You can read the full policy for all the details.

About us

We are Parent to Parent Association Qld (P2P).
We help people with disability and their families.
We always ask before we take your photo or video you.

Your rights

- We will never take a photo or video of you without asking first.
- You say yes or no to photos and videos.
- Saying no is okay - it will never change your services.
- You can change your mind at any time.
- You can get help deciding if you want to give consent by asking a family member, carer, or advocate.
- If you are under 18 or have a guardian, they need to agree with your decision where possible.

Where we might use your photo

If you say yes, we might use your photo on:

- our website
- Facebook, Instagram, or LinkedIn
- our newsletter or annual report
- slides at events
- flyers and brochures
- in the news (if you agree)

We will always tell you if we want to use your photo for something new that you haven't already agreed to.

What we won't do

- Take your photo without asking.
- Share your photo with others without your okay.
- Use your photo in a way that could embarrass you.
- Show your photo next to information about your disability or health, without asking.
- Pressure you to say yes.
- Take photos in private places like bathrooms or bedrooms.

How we ask you

We will:

- explain what the photo is for, and where it will be used.
- ask you to sign a form if it is the first time we are using a photo of you
- not rush you to make a decision about using a photo of you
- give you time to ask questions if you are not sure about something
- give you time to talk to someone you trust before making a decision

Changing your mind

You can change your mind about letting us use a photo of you. If you change your mind, we will:

- stop using your photo straight away in new things
- take it off our website and social media as soon as we can
- try our best to remove it from other places

We might not be able to remove a photo that the media has already shared.

Keeping photos safe

We store photos safely.
Only P2P staff who are using them can see them.
We do not sell photos.
